

COLORADO PROGRESSIVES FLAY FORCES OF 'INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT' AND STAND UNITED TO WAGE FINISH FIGHT

State Selects Its Ticket and Will Arena Stronger Than Ever;
Costigan, arty as Unanimous Choice for Governor; Union Not Considered

Scenes seldom witnessed in the political arena characterized the state assembly of the Progressive party at the Temple theater yesterday. The forces of "invisible government" suffered a blow from which they never will recover; popular will and the desire for justice ruled; harmony not only permeated the deliberations of the delegates in name, but was there in fact, and candidates were designated for nominations on the state ticket who will go into the fight with the full backing of men and women belonging thoroughly in their integrity and ability. With the close of the assembly last night, leaders and delegates alike expressed themselves that made a record that will be a standard by which to come and one of which its members could well be proud.

When Edward P. Costigan, the unanimous choice for governor, took the platform yesterday afternoon the Progressive spirit broke loose and cheers upon cheers kept the large room sounding for fully 15 minutes. As chairman Merle D. Vincent introduced Costigan as "the new governor," the demonstration was taken up again, and throughout the utterances of the candidate, in his address, the members of the party echoed their support of his policies time and time again.

Delegates Decided Issues.
From the minute State Chairman C. Dodge called the meeting to order, the delegates determined to decide all issues before them and nominated candidates without even the suggestion that there was any attempt to split them or the people of their state. Six hundred and sixteen delegates were present, one of the largest assemblies in local political history.

The assembly's stand on the issue on which the fight will be made this fall at the polls—the industrial situation—was summed up in the strong resolutions adopted. The party pledged its unqualified support to lawless "lawless" as it was called, pledged itself to an establishment of complete and impartial maintenance of law and order; government; denied the right wage private war. The party's position can be summed up as follows:

"The Progressive party has, from inception, not only realized that the impartial enforcement of law and the maintenance of order are primary essentials of a stable government, but that law and order are instituted so that justice may be obtained."

Vincent for Attorney General.
Although the delegates were practically all pledged for the support of Costigan for governor and Benjamin Griffith for United States senator, both of whom were unanimously selected, but few of them had an intention that Merle D. Vincent, one of the most prominent leaders in the party, would consent to nomination for attorney general. When Griffith took the platform and announced his nomination of Vincent for attorney general, delegates again gave vent to their enthusiasm. During the deliberations, Vincent would not act as chairman, national Committeeman Ira M. Deane of Boulder serving in that capacity.

Vincent was nominated for attorney general by a unanimous vote. In nominating Vincent, Griffith, who made the statement that the attorney general was the right hand man of the governor, "is he who sees the enforcement of the laws," said Griffith. "We must have a good attorney general to help our governor. Costigan. We know Mr. Vincent. I know he is the man for the job."

All political precedent was broken.

The unanimous choice of Colorado Progressives for governor.

JUSTICE TOO LONG A STRANGER IN OUR COUNCILS AND PRACTICES, SAYS COSTIGAN

Progressives' Unanimous Choice for Governor Makes Feature Address at Assembly

"Justice under law and with order to all elements of the community by a law which is the only Republican who could be found to make a fight for the seating of the progressives of Denver," he commented on the circumstance that L. N. Stevens, who yesterday announced his withdrawal from the Progressive party to the Republican party, sat silent while Vincent was making that contest for the recognition of the progressives of Denver, and that the title of Vincent and other of his associates was for that reason older and more uncompromising than that of the Fusionists, who finding they could not control the Progressive party, had their own profit have openly announced the alliance which they have really held for months but have long concealed.

The speaker then reviewed what he termed a 15 years' fight for good government in Colorado. "Every movement," he said, "worth while in human affairs has a history and is inspired by a vision. In Colorado for more than a decade and a half, women in growing numbers have cherished the vision of a free and just and a prosperous state; and their record was a history of progressivism long before the national Progressive party was born. Progressive Party Adopts Resolutions

The resolutions committee of the Progressive assembly, headed by Judge W. B. Walsh of Delta, reported to the assembly last night, its report being the first business of the convention. The resolutions, as stated, do not make a platform, and are only an expression of views of the convention. The resolutions follow:

The delegates of the state assembly of the Progressive party of Colorado, while not presuming to adopt a party platform, which under the law is one of the functions of the candidate, feels that it is proper and desirable to crystallize their views on certain important questions and does so in the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we condemn and declare our unalterable opposition to lawlessness, violence and insurrection in any and every form and by whomsoever committed, and pledge ourselves to the firm establishment of complete and impartial maintenance of law and order in every part of Colorado. We deny the right of any to wage private war and declare the same as intolerable and declare that all controversies must be settled without violence. And, be it further:

ROOSEVELT TO FIGHT BOSSES IN NEW YORK

Indorses Hinman, Republican, for Governor to Beat the Old Machines

OPPOSES B. PARTISAN RULE

Distinguishes Between State and National Issues in Coming Election

OSTON, N. Y., July 22.—The candidacy of ex-Senator Harvey D. Hinman of Huntington for the gubernatorial nomination in the Republican primaries, was endorsed by Theodore Roosevelt, who made a statement, Colonel Roosevelt made upon his return to New York, that he would support at a state ticket, the success of which would mean the overthrow of both Mr. Barnes and Mr. Murphy. In his statement, he said:

"In this campaign, I have a duty to perform to the Progressive party of the nation and a duty also to the state of New York. In national politics, as far as I am able, I shall endeavor to secure the success of the principles embodied in the Progressive national platform. Therefore, I shall oppose the policies of the present administration which I regard as deeply injurious to the honor and the interest of the American people."

Issue of Bosses in New York.
"But in this state, the prime duty is a good citizens' movement, a union movement, to save the state from the bipartisan control of Messrs. Barnes and Murphy, precisely like the good citizens' movement last year, when by union the city of New York was saved from the domination of Mr. Murphy. I have with all my heart that all independent citizens, whether Progressives, Republicans or Democrats, should shoulder their national affiliation, and should shoulder for clean bipartisan government in the state at large this fall."

In New York state, we see at its worst the development of the system of bipartisan boss rule. The outcome of this system is necessarily that "invisible government" which the Progressive party, was, in large part, founded to oppose. It is impossible to secure the economic, social and industrial reforms to which we are pledged until this invisible government of the party bosses, working through the alliance between crooked business and crooked politics, is rooted out of our governmental system."

Trail Blazers Find People Along Route Boosters for Good Roads

Special to The Gazette.

MEER, July 22.—Practically on schedule, time the Gazette-Telegraph pathfinder, came late Meeker at 1 o'clock this morning, escorted by L. B. Walbridge, a member of the state highway commission, W. S. Montgomery, president of the Meeker Commercial club, M. Sauer, A. C. Moulton, L. B. Scott, J. S. Huettner, and other Rio Blanco good roads workers, together with T. C. Wallace of Glenwood Springs and J. H. Crawford of Rifle. A trout dinner was awaiting the scouts and they did full justice to the splendid repast provided by the Meeker people. Following the dinner a number of the prominent men of Rio Blanco county made speeches in which they pledged their cooperation to the development of the Pike's Peak Ocean-to-Ocean highway, and expressed appreciation of the interest taken by Colorado Springs, and particularly by the Colorado Springs newspapers, in sending out the pathfinder.

Highway enthusiasm is strong in this section of the state. It is evident by recent road developments and by work in improving the Rio Blanco portion of the Pike's Peak Ocean-to-Ocean highway. Ever since Rio Blanco county affiliated last winter with this transcontinental route it has been determined to improve its mileage to the standard of the most highly developed links of the road.

DEMOCRATS SHY AT LIVE ISSUES ASSEMBLY STEERS AWAY FROM ADMINISTRATION

Admitted There Are Spots in Government Not to Be Indorsed

Working consistently to evade all discussions which could possibly lead to action on the state administration and its policies, the labor situation in southern Colorado, even the appointment of a resolutions committee, the democratic county assembly, in session at the court house yesterday afternoon, was finally adjourned by leaders successfully keeping down the few clamoring for such action. But adjournment was not taken until after a fight whether delegations to state and congressional assemblies should be instructed, during which resolutions were, shoved through instructions for chief justice George W. Musser for the gubernatorial nomination and Congressman H. H. Seldomaker for reelection and industrial Senator Charles S. Thomas for reelection.

Fight Starts Early.
The fight on instructions was precipitated at the beginning of the session by Martin M. Barnes, who attempted to amend Clyde Starrett's resolution instructing for Musser by adding the name of M. A. Ledy for state auditor. After a lively fight, Starrett forced the question to a vote and the resolution was carried unanimously. Then, however, he switched to the second question and led it against Mark Skinner, who was denouncing the two delegations to state assemblies. During the fight, Dr. Kennedy introduced a resolution instructing the congressional delegation for Senator Thomas, which but added fuel to the fire.

"If this assembly has any power at all, it has the power to instruct," shouted Skinner, racing to the front of the hall. He was the first and only orator to appear before the convention. For perhaps five minutes he shouted and gesticulated, urging the assembly to instruct its delegations.

For Instructed Delegates.
"We've got to instruct," Delegate Davis supplemented. "We don't want to send men who may trade us for dollars and cents, as has been done in the past."

"That's a lie," interjected William Rogers.

"That's a lie," both returned Davis. "It's been done. You know," but Chairman Clarence M. Hawkins put an end to the only argument, which gave promise of something more than usual assembly excitement.

Half a dozen resolutions, each amended a time or two, and all for instruction, were introduced, when Starrett settled the question once and for all by securing the passage of a substitute for all motions calling for the state delegation to go "absolutely unimpaired."

Skating On Thin Ice.
During the fight several had asked that a resolutions committee be appointed to receive all resolutions presented to the assembly and others which would come up later. These were immediately lost in the argument. Delegate Mallory stating the reason a few moments later, when he said:

"We've got to admit that there are some spots in the state administration we don't want to indorse. We're skating on mighty thin ice—so we had better forget instructions."

Before making the statement Mallory said he would do so with the knowledge that the "Republican right-earners on the outskirts will cackle."

During the argument that followed the Rev. C. R. Garver introduced a resolution instructing for Seldomaker and it was carried at the height of the scrap. Meanwhile the Thomas following was working.

At all times during the fight Chairman Vincent was in the center.

The consideration for the sale is said to be in excess of $500,000.

ARMISTICE IN MEXICO WILL END FIGHTING

Full Guarantees Will Be Extended to Everybody in Republic, Report

PEACE PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Carranza in Touch With the Capital; Obregon Within Few Miles of City

MEXICO CITY, July 22.—That an armistice between the government and the Constitutionalists was signed tonight and that hostilities will be suspended at once throughout the republic, was the statement given out tonight by Gen. Eduardo Huerta, governor of the federal district, in the name of President Carranza. The peace negotiations will be advanced upon a basis giving full guarantees to everybody.

Carranza in Touch With Capital.
VICTORIA, Tamaulipas, Mexico, July 22.—Direct telegraphic communication between Mexico City and General Carranza, Constitutional chief, was opened here today. Officers with Carranza declare that the triumphal entry of the Constitutionalists into Mexico City without bloodshed is now assured. Carranza is here, en route to Tampico.

Robles Dominguez, confidential agent of the Constitutionalists in Mexico City, asked for instructions, but Carranza's reply was not made public. It was to Dominguez that General Diaz turned over the government during the time between his departure for Europe and the entry of Francisco Madero. Constitutional officials here believe the Carranza-Carballo negotiations will be brief and that Carranza will enter the capital with little delay.

Peace Prospects Bright.
MEXICO CITY, July 22.—Prospects for a peaceful termination of the tangled situation here grew brighter today with the announcement from Carranza sources in the capital that negotiations with Provisional President Francisco Carballo for the transfer of the government to the Constitutionalists were "proceeding favorably."

The same hopeful view was taken by the Carballo officials and it is understood this means that General Carranza had agreed to a general amnesty which was the chief point for which Carballo has been contending.

The advance guard of Gen. Alvaro Obregon's force of 8,000 Constitutionalists is at Tula, within an hour's ride of the capital, and the remainder of this army is in the vicinity of Queretaro, 120 miles to the north, where it is assembling for a peaceful advance on Mexico City.

Obregon Nearer Capital.
General Obregon, who is a staunch supporter of Gen. Venustiano Carranza, probably will be the first of the Constitutional commanders to arrive here and his force is believed to be sufficient to insure the capital against internal disorder or the attacks of the bandit groups now active in the south.

General Obregon's advance guard numbers 400 men, but it is thought probable that these would attempt to reach the city until the entire army was close behind them.

The impression prevails here that the Huerta congress will not meet again and that the next session in the chamber of deputies will be that of the members of Madero's congress which was dissolved by General Huerta last October.

A majority of the Madero congressmen are gathered here awaiting the

Sent to Jail for Deserting Child

Charles Recker and Nellie Lemot, the man and woman who recently took a 15-year-old boy, the woman's son, to St. Francis hospital, suffering with a contagious disease, gave assumed names, and left the child to die and be buried without revealing their identity or even making inquiries concerning the boy, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon in Justice Dunnington's court to charges of child abandonment. Justice Dunnington sentenced each of them to 30 days in the county jail, and fined each $30 and costs. This was the heaviest punishment which could be inflicted on the man and woman under the law, although peace officers tried to hold them on charges as serious as possible.

and thence north toward Meeker, is in fine condition, and in fact mile after mile of the road is a real boulevard. In Rio Blanco county the road is good and is being rapidly improved by the several construction gangs with which the party met in the course of its trip to Meeker.
The county commissioners of this county are alive to good roads, and they have the backing of Mr. Walbridge, who gave assurance that Rio Blanco's part of the highway will be in the best possible shape at the time of the feasibility run, next month. Early tomorrow morning the westward trip will be renewed, with the expectation of crossing over into Utah about noon, and of making Vernal the night control.
The state highway commissioner, Thomas J. Ehrhart, was expected in Eagle this morning to accompany County Commissioner Charles Mayer on an official inspection of the western approach to the top of Tennessee pass. Arrangements are being completed to utilize the old narrow gauge railroad bridge, which will make a road with a maximum grade of 1 percent, similar to the real already constructed and in use as the eastern approach. It is expected that the inspection by these two officials will result in immediate development of this portion of the highway, thus relieving one of the few remaining difficult stretches of this road.

SPRINGS MAN ELECTED OFFICIAL GROCERS ASSN.

TRINIDAD, July 22.—With the election of officers for the ensuing year, the Retail Grocers' Association of Colorado ended its fourteenth annual convention in this city late this afternoon. Sol H. Jaffa of Trinidad was re-elected president. Other officers are: Charles J. Goveanu, Rocky Ford, first vice president; M. A. Sanchez, Walsenburg, second vice president; S. B. Wonders, Montrose, third vice president; William Lutz, Longmont, fourth vice president; W. J. Colson, Denver, treasurer.
Members of board of directors: Vernon J. Robinson, Denver; W. G. Little, Pueblo; and C. Smith, Colorado Springs.
The convention has been in session three days. The principal addresses today were made by Anderson Pace, industrial commissioner of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, and Frank R. Connelley, president of the National Association of Retail Grocers.

CHARGES MADE AGAINST SEVERAL MINE OFFICIALS

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 22.—A series of charges against William Houston, president of the Eleventh district, United Mine Workers of America; James Shiel, vice president, and one member of the district board, Thomas Moss, were filed today before the special convention of the district.

MESSAGES FROM ROOSEVELT AND OTHER PROMINENT PROGRESSIVES BRING CHEERS AT STATE ASSEMBLY

Oyster Bay, L. I., July 22, 1914.
C. P. Dodge, State Chairman, Progressive Party of Colorado, Colorado Springs, Colo.:
Please extend to the Progressives of Colorado my heartiest good wishes for success in the fight we are now making.
(Signed) THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

New Orleans, La., July 22, 1914.
Hon. C. P. Dodge, State Chairman, Progressive Party of Colorado, Colorado Springs, Colo.:
Louisiana Progressives send cordial greetings to our Colorado brethren. We wish them triumphant success. We are doing our utmost here and are determined to win. Hearty good luck.
(Signed) JOHN M. PARKER.

Chicago, Ill., July 20, 1914.
Clarence P. Dodge, State Chairman, Progressive Party of Colorado, Colorado Springs, Colorado.
The Progressives in Illinois count on victory next November. Send greetings to Colorado Progressives. We are fighting in a common cause, united on a common political program, from ocean to ocean. Your fight in Colorado, like ours in Illinois, is national in its meaning and will prove national in its consequences. As things now stand the Democratic managers concede Robins' election to the United States senate. We have rejected all offers of compromise. We have nominated candidates for what-ever offices. Partisan nominations are made in every county in Illinois. We go tomorrow, with Albert Beveridge as our principal opponent, to open our campaign in Chicago, the home of McKinley, Taft's manager, and in Danville, the home of Joe Cannon. What cheer have you for us, Progressives of Colorado? Shall we not say that you in the mountains and we in the prairies join Pennsylvania to California that Robins and Costigan, friends of the toilers, with Johnson and Pinchot lead the march this year?
(Signed) MEDILL McCORMICK.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 21, 1914.
Clarence P. Dodge, State Chairman, Progressive Party of Colorado, Colorado Springs, Colorado.
You in Colorado are feeling the same ground swell toward the Progressive cause and the Progressive ticket of which we in Pennsylvania have become fully conscious. I urge you to make your fight without compromise or coalition in the confident faith that you will win as we shall in the old Keystone state. This is a bad year for bosses; this is the year when Progress goes down. Good luck to every one of you from every one of us.
(Signed) GIFFORD PINCHOT.

Wichita, Kan., July 21, 1914.
Mr. Clarence P. Dodge, State Chairman, Progressive Party of Colorado, Colorado Springs, Colo.:
I congratulate Colorado upon the present growth and purpose of the Progressive party of that state. You have awakened a keener general interest in good government than Colorado ever possessed before, and out of the awakening will come the triumph of your party and its splendid candidates at the polls. Sincerely,
(Signed) HENRY J. ALLEN.

Washington, D. C., July 21, 1914.
Mr. Clarence P. Dodge, State Chairman, Progressive Party of Colorado, Colorado Springs, Colo.:
The Progressives in congress send greetings to the Colorado brethren. We have the greatest and the greatest principles, the greatest courage. Everywhere the Progressives are lining up and back of them are the people who despair of progress under Republican leadership, and who are disgusted with Democratic incompetency. We have one thing to do—persist in our principles. If we do persist we win; if we do not we deserve to lose.
(Signed) VICTOR MURDOCK.

Moraine Park, Colo., July 20, 1914.
To the Assembly of Colorado Progressives, Colorado Springs, Colo.:
Only illness in my family keeps me from being with you. The splendid spirit you have manifested in your many county assemblies this summer is typical of Progressive activities all over the nation. Colorado people are beginning to realize what the people of every state are realizing—that it is not merely the election of a good man as a Republican or a Democrat here and there, but it is the political revolution that must be accomplished by abandoning both old parties that will bring about the fundamental reforms in our governments, county, state and national—which will really solve our modern problems. Many Republicans mean well and are strong; many Democrats mean well and are determined; but when they get into power the party system drags in with them hundreds of their partisans who mean well only if they can hold their jobs; and as a result, the drag of these job-holders and their adherents pulls any man down. Look at Wilson. The tug and friction and lost power he has spent trying to make the Democrats do something worth while. I spent a year behind bars, would it be a year accomplished in 15 months. Why use a machine that runs only with one engine, however big and burly the tonnage may be? Why not put into commission the party that uses all its power all the time? The people are beginning to see this truth, and in November we are sure to begin to get the business and deliver the goods.
(Signed) WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE.

CONGRESSIONAL SESSIONS ARE MARKED BY HARMONY

The Progressive congressional assembly of the four districts held business-like and harmonious sessions during the intermission between the afternoon and evening sessions of the state assembly last night. No fights came up, owing to the plan whereby congressional candidates as well as all others, are welcome to go before the committee and submit their cases to the people.
Dan Dillon, Casement of Colorado Springs, received the largest vote in the second district, 34 delegates supporting him. Dr. C. E. Fisher of Sterling received 62 votes. W. H. Caley of Arapahoe county 22, and A. H. Kramer of Adams county, 22.
A statement in yesterday morning's Gazette to the effect that Dr. Fisher had been read out of the party, was not correct. Dr. Fisher attended all sessions yesterday and took an active Interest in the work of the assembly. The Progressive party does not read its members out of the party—it gives everybody a chance to prove his steadfastness to the principles of the party.

In the first district, Denver, two candidates were designated: Archibald A. Lee received 99 votes and Charles J. Downey, 29.
In the third district, N. N. McLean of Larimer county was the only nominee, and received the entire vote of the district—145. The fourth district will have two designations—John B. Killien of Delta, who received 384 votes, and S. B. Wonders of Montrose, who received 294 votes.
Congressional district chairmen and secretaries were elected as follows:
First district—R. H. Romans, Loveland, chairman; R. R. Drennon, J. J. Clapp, secretary, both of Denver.
Second district—Joseph D. Blunt, Florence, chairman; L. P. Barbour, Rocky Ford, secretary.
Fourth district—W. E. Dudley, Grand Junction, chairman; W. J. Can-dish, Leadville, secretary.

ODD HUMAN CONTRASTS

From the Washington Star.
The hobbies of great men furnish a never-ending source of amusement to those who are interested in odd human contrasts. Apparently every man's hobby is the direct opposite of his regular work. It is a well-known fact that many justices of the supreme court, whose life-work is really a careful balancing of words, are inveterate readers of the novels which shock at the ps. cry in a day made covers the principal plot of which is told. They have frequently said that the preposterous action in these tales serves as an antidote for the slow sober literature which comes before their court.
A certain officer in the army who has been instrumental in devising many improvements to the cavalry saber, has a weakness for collecting butterflies, and a certain Washington writer who has never been nearer to the orient than Cumberland, Md., spends his spare time and his spare dollars in accumulating all varieties of Chinese idols.

man Hawkins was endeavoring to get the matter straightened out and rush the work of the assembly. When he did call for nominations he had the situation in hand and put the motion for adjournment less than three hours after the assembly was called to order, establishing a record for Democratic assemblies and their orators. Hawkins even squelched those who had prepared speeches to second nominations.
During the balloting the chair appointed a dozen tellers to assist Secretary E. P. Huffer and his assistant, Ed Starrett. The confusion became so great that business was practically stopped several times, though the uproar proved effective in quieting those who were attempting to start scraps.
Single Taxers Present.
Single taxers injected their movement into the assembly when nominations for assessor were asked. Ernest Sinton offered the name of Lem Mummah, saying: "In nominating a man for this office we must consider that the present system of taxation is out of date and we must have a man who will study the work of his office." Clyde Starrett immediately nominated the present holder of the office, R. J. Gwillim, answering Sinton by saying: "The day is here when the system of taxation is in bad condition. But it will be a sad day when the assessor must make the change in systems. The law says full valuation, and the assessor can only do what the statute says." Gwillim received 114 votes while Mummah had 51.
Little enthusiasm was shown in nominating the delegates applauding only a few candidates. The assembly seemed more interested in the real Democratic convention when the name of Chief of Police Howard Stark was placed in nomination for sheriff. Stark had many supporters and polled a vote of 155, 32 higher than the second man.
Motions authorizing the central committee to act as a committee on vacancies and approving the precinct committee and committee women were passed. By this time more than half the delegates had left the hall. The Rev. Mr. Garver presented a resolution endorsing the candidacy of Thomas A. Light when the vote was taken it was found that with few exceptions only the Thomas followers remained.
At a convention of Colorado Springs delegates, R. H. Custer and Mrs. R. F. Ross were nominated for justices of the peace and Claude Kutch, Ed McCloskey and Edward J. Vermillion for constables. Colorado City and Manitou delegates will meet later to nominate for these offices.
Seldombridge Wires Thanks.
Before the assembly adjourned the following wire was received by H. H. Lyons from Congressman Seldombridge: "Please convey to the El Paso county Democratic assembly my sincere appreciation of its endorsement. The confidence and esteem of one's neighbors and friends cannot be too highly prized. I recognize in your action your purpose to commend and support the president in his efforts to advance the cause of popular government, and it will receive the approval of the American people. We welcome and contest based on the record and achievements of the Democratic administration, and invite the cooperation and support of all patriotic citizens."

AMNESTY URGED TO PREVENT WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER IN MEXICO

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Peace in Mexico is far from assured and complications both international and internal are rapidly entangling the situation. American officials, diplomats and Mexicans of both factions here believe.
The United States government is exerting every diplomatic influence toward harmonizing discordant elements, but certain aspects are admittedly grave. Official reports reveal that the most threatening factor is the aloofness of General Villa from the authority of General Carranza. Another vexing point is that General Carranza, according to his agents here, is disinclined to grant amnesty to political offenders and will insist upon an unconditional surrender by the Carranza government. Unless Carranza is willing to give assurances that there will be no wholesale arrests, executions and confiscations of property when the Constitutionalists enter Mexico City, Provisional President Carranza will rally all the military elements at his disposal and resist to the end the Constitutional advance.
Mediators Urge Amnesty.
The diplomatic representatives of Argentina and Brazil, who mediated in the international dispute between the United States and Mexico, have indicated through Secretary Bryan their belief that a peaceful transfer of authority could be accomplished with little difficulty if an amnesty were granted and proper guarantees given. The United States government, realizing this, is working hard to obtain these terms, but as yet without assurance of success.
Foreign complications are looming up also between Mexico and England, France and Spain and European creditors generally who had financial relations with the former Huerta government. England is preparing to ask for satisfaction for the killing of William B. Benton and France is making vigorous protest over the killing of two French citizens at Zacatecas. The Spanish government is anxious that the Spaniards driven from Torreon and other points be reimbursed for their losses. The grievances of these countries are lodged against General Villa, particularly, and General Carranza's estrangement with Villa has made it more difficult for the first chief to attempt to settle them satisfactorily.
U. S. Working for Harmony.
The Washington government has made an earnest appeal to both General Carranza and General Villa to forget their personal differences and work in harmony for the restoration of peace. No indication of the appeal has come, but reliable advices to the Washington government are that Villa has been concentrating his troops preparatory to making vigorous demands upon Carranza.
The Washington administration will insist that an amnesty be granted as the most logical step toward peace. Recognition will be withheld until a peaceful transfer of authority is arranged between the Constitutionalists and the Carranza government.
Jew Castriot, personal representative of Provisional President Francisco Carranza here, said he was confident that the commissioners sent by Carranza to treat with Carranza would reach a satisfactory agreement.
May Declare Armistice.
We are relying chiefly on the influence of the American government to prevent further fighting and bring about an armistice. As soon as the proposed armistice is begun it is understood Carranza will declare an armistice.

AMNESTY URGED TO PREVENT WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER IN MEXICO

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Peace in Mexico is far from assured and complications both international and internal are rapidly entangling the situation. American officials, diplomats and Mexicans of both factions here believe.
The United States government is exerting every diplomatic influence toward harmonizing discordant elements, but certain aspects are admittedly grave. Official reports reveal that the most threatening factor is the aloofness of General Villa from the authority of General Carranza. Another vexing point is that General Carranza, according to his agents here, is disinclined to grant amnesty to political offenders and will insist upon an unconditional surrender by the Carranza government. Care of the Hair
In Euro-pean Countries
In Southern Europe the very straight, homely appearance of the hair of lower class native women is due to its excessive greasiness and could be greatly improved upon by the elimination of all excess oil. Throughout the continent among the higher social classes great care is taken to keep the hair perfectly clean, not with soap and makshuffs, but with preparation which are the result of its perfect cleansing power. You can avoid any bad condition of scalp or hair by use of this economical homemade shampoo, which is prepared very quickly by just dissolving a few drops of cod liver oil in a cup of water and pouring slowly on the head as you rub. This makes a wealth of rich, cleansing lather which will soon restore the fluff and lustre to the dull hair and encourage a beautiful growth.

Colorado Progressives Hold First State Assembly

COLORADO PROGRESSIVES FLY FORCES OF 'INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT'; TO FINISH FIGHT

"I'll give you the best that's in me for the cause. Every man and every woman shall have a square deal." Mrs. Riddle is prominent in the work of the State Grange society, the Mothers congress, school work and other activities in northern Colorado. She is probably one of the best-known women in the state.

Ben Griffith Nominated.

Ben Griffith's name was the first to be brought before the assembly for designation. Philip Mothersill of Denver, nominating Griffith, pointed with pride to the nominee's record as attorney general, his standing in the state, his absolute integrity and his moral worth. The selection was made unanimously by a rising vote, and there that lasted several minutes, showed the delegates' approval of the candidate.

In accepting the nomination Griffith told how different the convention yesterday was from the Republican, how the assembly of four years ago, his talk was largely on the method of naming candidates for office and predicted the going away with assemblies altogether.

The Progressive nominations will be made by the rank and file of the party, he said. They will not be dominated by any clique or bosses, and the people will really name their candidates. If there are any other candidates for the United States senate here, let them come forward and let the best man win. It seems to me that we have the principles that appeal to the people of the state. What we now need is the organization, publicity and education. If the Progressive party in the various counties will stand on its feet and platform without alliance or compromise, where one man drops out 10 men will be gained.

Will Fulfill Mission.

"We are the party that stands on its platform. We mean what we say. The people know we will fulfill our mission. Our candidate for governor stands out as the one great leader on state issues. He is the man of the hour."

J. H. Causey of Denver nominated Edward P. Causey for governor and although his remarks were frequently interrupted by cheering, the finish of his address was marked by a remarkable ovation for the nominee. The men and women of the assembly cheered and shouted and yelled for at least 10 minutes, showing their united support for their candidate.

The nomination was seconded by delegates in every part of the room.

Mr. Costigan was unable to get a chance to speak for several minutes after he took the platform. His address was frequently interrupted by cheering and the Colorado battle cry, "Teddy and Eddy."

Supreme Court Nomination.

The uncontested nomination of J. C. Ewing of Greeley for justice of the supreme court brought up the question of the Colorado Bar association's nomination of judges.

Chairman Clarence P. Dodge announced that he had received a communication from Judge E. O. Stimson, president of the Colorado Bar association, calling attention to the association's plans for nomination and asking that the assembly consider the final result of the voting, which gave John Campbell the highest number of votes. Ewing, in an address before the assembly, stated that it should be determined that the person or persons shall be supported by all political parties, that he felt that it was the honorable thing to say by the decision of his fellow attorneys. However, later it was discovered that such was not the case, and after a consultation with attorneys, Ewing declared that he could and would accept the nomination, through Joseph Gault of Weld county, who placed his name in nomination.

The assembly also gave Ewing an ovation when he announced his platform. "If I am elected to the office," he said, "I will not stand for the suspension of the habeas corpus or for government by injunction. I know I have a conscience without a taint, and I propose to give my best efforts for the party's success."

Thurs for Lieutenant Governor.

This designation of candidates for lieutenant governor brought up the first contest by designation. Three candidates, R. H. Troutman of Canon City, H. H. Harbaugh of Greeley and Frank Snice of Eagle were nominated, and on the vote the ballot stood, Troutman, 334; Harbaugh, 192; Snice, 55. The latter not securing the necessary 50 per cent, was left off the primary ballot.

Two men from Leadville, E. L. Cretney and M. A. Nicholson, were suggested for treasurer, the first probably being named at the wish of the latter. After Nicholson had protested vigorously against nomination, he was allowed to withdraw his name. He is a brother of Sam Nicholson, probable nominee for governor on the Republican ticket. Cretney received the unanimous vote of the assembly.

D. C. Burns Nominated.

A. W. Miller of Larimer county, carrying by county banner in the state with him and designating it as "the one-time-attorney-at-law," nominated D. C. Burns of Denver for lieutenant governor. Burns was one of the delegates from the Denver delegation and tried to gain recognition from the chairman, Vincent, but could not get to the floor. He asked for a minute to speak, but when so many delegations followed his nomination, he acquiesced, after some delegates had shouted, "Sit down, you're reeking the hall!" His nomination was made unanimously.

The nominations for state superintendent of public instruction brought up another three-cornered contest, but all candidates succeeded in getting sufficient votes to go on the primary ticket. Mrs. Fred Dick of Denver received 272 votes; Mrs. Mae Todd of Fort Collins, 180; Margaret in charge of rural school work for the State Agricultural college at Fort Collins, 140. A number of the women delegates made addresses, but only one of the other women candidates, the qualifications of all being exceptional.

The only nominations made at the night session were those for two regents of the State university. George H. Gould placed the name of Warren H. Gould of Colorado Springs before the assembly, but withdrew the name when Benjamin Griffith suggested that persons being a member of the Colorado college faculty might not want the designation. Persons was not present last night. The name of Frank A. Shutz, superintendent of the north side schools, Pueblo, and Randolph Cook, Trinidad, were the unanimous choice of the assembly. No selection was made for the third regent to fill the unexpired term.

Resolution Committee Reports.

The report of the resolutions committee was the last order of business. Judge Welch, chairman of the committee, announced that the resolutions were not a party platform. The finalization of the party platform, the committee said, followed a parallel argument over the legality of the second resolution. Chairman Vincent ruled that the Collins resolution was out of order, stating that a motion to reconsider the resolution committee's report was the only motion that could be in order in that connection. This motion was made but was lost, and the Collins resolution, brought in too late for consideration, was not put before the assembly.

State Chairman C. P. Dodge was directed by the convention to telegraph Mead McClellan, chairman of the good Illinois state Progressives, the good wishes of the Colorado Progressives. Resolutions thanking the local Progressives for their entertainment and thanking the Elks lodge for giving the privileges of the club house were passed by the assembly before the final adjournment. Adjournment was taken at 9:30 o'clock.

Late Train Delays Openings.

Not much real business was transacted during the morning session, the assembly not convening until after 11 o'clock, owing to the train with the Denver delegation being delayed. The Denver delegation was escorted on foot by the El Paso county and city properly described as supreme ignorance, flagrant hypocrisy or complete mendacity. No man can have a higher title for asserting what we today affirm with all the strength which it is possible to voice in words, but what we stand unflinchingly for law and order. Our years of warfare against wrong have laid, invariably, emphasis on law and order as indispensable to society and absolutely fundamental in progress. It is not enough to say that law and order are the flesh of the flesh and bone of the bone of the men and women who year in and year out have assailed and still assail every breaking and law-breaker of every character and in every place, high or low, in Denver and the state.

Up to Party, Says Lee.

The selection of Mead D. Vincent as chairman of the convention and Frank H. Dunsmuir of Colorado Springs as secretary was made unanimously. The nominating address was made by Archibald A. Lee of Denver.

"The fate of Colorado rests this year with the Progressive party and its simple platform of justice and law," said Lee. "For many years, interests and classes have controlled Colorado. The Progressive party stands for justice to all, to the capitalist, to the laborer, to the farmer, to the miner, to the stockman. We are pushing the Progressive cause as hard as we can, and it is a matter of great satisfaction to us to see the strength of the Colorado Progressives. Every day it becomes clearer how firmly the Republican party is controlled by the special interests. The Democrats have a party of inherent incompetence. It has been such from the day of its birth. The Progressive party only asks for simple honesty and a square deal."

Mr. Davis told how the Democrats had stolen the 1904 election by a fraudulent platform, and the trade commission and the plan of control of the issuance of securities.

Rules Committee Named.

L. R. Kirkwood, national committee man from Missouri, a son-in-law of Col. W. R. Nelson of Kansas City, Mo., also made a short but comprehensive address to the Colorado members of the party.

Before the noon adjournment, the committee on rules and order of business was named, consisting of one from each county. The resolutions committee was named as follows: Judge M. R. Welch of Delta, Dr. Maude Saunders of Denver, Warren M. Persons of Colorado Springs, J. H. Causey of Denver and Fred Causey of Teller county.

JUSTICE TOO LONG A STRANGER-COSTIGAN

For several years elections in Colorado were a matter of law and order. Laws were broken and an essential disorder reigned throughout the bodies of this commonwealth.

"Law and Order" of the Past.

In these days the only law and order leagues organized for the protection of the good name of the people of this state were promoted by the very men now being promoted by those who attempt fraudulently to appropriate the law and order of the past. The men and women who made the real fight for a free state shown in this hour, are the men and women who with their associates sit in this convention. They organized law enforcement leagues, honest election leagues, voters leagues, direct primary leagues, civil service leagues, direct legislation leagues, Democratic movements, municipal ownership and citizens movements, and finally the Progressive party here in convention assembled. There was, and still is, a protest against "invisible government" in city, state and nation.

"In the face of such a record bridging more than ten years and an unyielding and unwavering fighting any accusation of indifference or hostility on our part of law and order, can only be properly described as supreme ignorance, flagrant hypocrisy or complete mendacity. No man can have a higher title for asserting what we today affirm with all the strength which it is possible to voice in words, but what we stand unflinchingly for law and order. Our years of warfare against wrong have laid, invariably, emphasis on law and order as indispensable to society and absolutely fundamental in progress. It is not enough to say that law and order are the flesh of the flesh and bone of the bone of the men and women who year in and year out have assailed and still assail every breaking and law-breaker of every character and in every place, high or low, in Denver and the state.

"There is No Challenge."

"No man anywhere can without provocation challenge our position. Neither power nor place in our opinion is worthy of the price of false pretenses. We affirm as I have often stated, that violence has no place in government and that it hails instead of promoting the reformation of public affairs which is the present dream and coming reality of Colorado and the nation."

Having said so much we in turn demand all right accounting from those on the other side who have not hesitated to stoop to falsehood while boasting their devotion to "law and order," and who at the mere mention of justice as a proper object of state administration have taken to their heels.

"We ask and have a right to know whether they in fact stand for law and order, or for that order without law, and that so-called 'law' without order, which the weary years have known in the kingdom of the Asinians."

Mr. Kirkwood next discussed the constructive program of the Progressive party for settling industrial disputes by arbitration as part of the Progressive program of justice to capital and labor alike, and in closing said:

"In the light of Colorado's history—with Republicans learning nothing and teaching nothing except the spending of public funds and the accumulation of public debts—with Democracy merely subservient to special privilege and indifference to public welfare—both alike helpless in the constitutional rights for the protection of which both blindly founded this republic—controversy, with the aid of any method of solution except thoughtful guns—it is not time for Colorado to try a new and square deal founded on knowledge and constructive capacity? For 20 years—each time under pressure of privileged business and political maladministration—the industrial clock has struck in Colorado with consistent warning. First 1884. Then 1894. Then 1904. Now 1914 with such a sequence—without interrupting the toll in life and property—Colorado's citizenship longer affords to continue remedies or indifference."

The Progressive national platform of 1912—written with the heart's blood of such men as Jane Addams, of scholars like Lewis and Wood, of seers like Robins and Roosevelt—meets safely in the common interest. It contemplates fair play and a just return alike to capital and labor. It demanded on the one hand publicity in regard to and public regulation of business, not in hostility to business but for its protection, not in theory but for actual accomplishment, and a living government. These things had been government without violence under law settling industrial controversies in Europe, Canada and Australia. They properly asked why America should do less.

"No Nobler Ideal."

"The Progressives of this nation neither were nor are afraid of justice. The English language boasts no nobler ideal. Justice, as Burke properly said, more than a century ago, is the great standing policy of civil society. To the law and the practice it represents which by a state aided to help and in response to every right appeal will mean beyond question a new, a great and a steadily progressive Colorado."

CAILLAUX SCORES POINT FOR WIFE IN MURDER CASE

EXCITING SCENES OCCUR IN COURT ROOM

Former Premier Again Central Figure in the Trial of Editor's Slayer

PARIS, July 22.—Joseph Caillaux, former premier, was again today the central figure in the proceedings in the court of the assize, where his wife, Mme. Henriette Caillaux, is on trial for the killing of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro. The court room was crowded to its utmost capacity. In the expectation of sensational revelations arising from Mr. Labori's closing statement last night, when he declared he would refuse to plead unless full statements were made by the government regarding documents which it was alleged, were important enough to crush Caillaux.

On the opening of court this morning, the prosecutor general said he was authorized by the government to declare the documents referred to in yesterday's testimony did not exist. Instead, therefore, of utterly discrediting the ex-premier, the incident ended in his triumph, as his brilliant antagonist, M. Chenu, counsel for the Calmette family, was obliged to acknowledge.

Incident Now Closed.

When the prosecutor general resumed his seat, M. Labori, counsel for Mme. Caillaux, said: "We consider the incident closed."

M. Chenu replied sarcastically: "The incident is closed to the satisfaction of M. Caillaux, but to my mind it was nothing but a clever diversion, most opportunely arranged, and I admire the skill with which it was arranged. It has pleased M. Caillaux to transform a criminal trial into the trial of a political cause. Somehow, as the result of circumstances which escape my comprehension, we reach this paradoxical issue, that Caillaux a certificate of the proceedings with a certificate of disinterested patriotism."

Two Exciting Scenes.

The Radical leader, from his seat in the body of the court, followed the case with the closest attention. Occasionally he would look tenderly in the direction of his wife with an encouraging smile or gesture. Not a word uttered by the witnesses escaped him as he leaned forward, his hand cupped around his ear, the better to hear.

Twice during the session today they were exciting scenes. Once, when M. Chenu declared it did not become M. Caillaux to endeavor to soil the grave which his wife had made, the ex-premier sprang forward and exclaimed:

"Since I must take notice of what this lawyer has said, I will ask him if he will take personal responsibility for his words?"

When the uproar, which this utterance occasioned, had subsided, M. Chenu replied:

"I take the entire responsibility. You cannot menace me here."

Caillaux Crack Shot.

M. Caillaux did not interfere further in the proceedings until August 4th, political editor of the Figaro, in his deposition declared that early in November, 1913, M. Caillaux had stopped him in the lobby of the chamber and asked how much longer Calmette was going to continue his campaign. He gave an evasive answer and M. Caillaux then said to him: "You know I am a crack shot. I go every day to the shooting gallery and get a bullseye every time."

The ex-premier leaped to his feet and demanded to be confronted with the witness. The two stood face to face at the bar. M. Caillaux affirmed that he had no recollection of ever saying such a thing; M. Avril maintained with equal determination the exactitude of his testimony.

As M. Caillaux left the court at the close of the hearing, many hands were outstretched to him. Some were those of acquaintances and others of old strangers. He seemed to be deeply touched by these manifestations of sympathy and exclaimed in a voice shaken by real emotion:

Given Credit as He Leaves.

A small crowd assembled outside the main gates of the palace of justice to see M. Caillaux depart. They gave him a rousing cheer, mingled with a few hisses. M. Caillaux, accompanied by Deputy Pascal Gecault, went to the conciergerie and spent an hour with his wife. Meanwhile, on the opposite side of the palace, close to the statue of Henry IV, on the left, a small crowd, waiting in vain to see the ex-premier, began to discuss the case and demanded police interference to disperse the rioters.

IRISH PROGRAM IS AGREED UPON DEADLOCK IN HOME RULE CONFERENCES AGAIN IS IMMINENT

HURRY TO BE KEYNOTE IN THE FUTURE

Three Bills May Be Combined Into One Measure to Expedite Action

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Senate Democrats in caucus tonight agreed upon a definite legislative program, in which they expect to put through the antitrust and appropriation bills and bring about adjournment of congress at the earliest possible moment. Nearly every majority senator now in Washington attended, and while no predictions as to adjournment were made, "hurry" was the keynote of the meeting.

It was decided that the pending interstate trade commission bill should be continued as the unfinished business and kept constantly before the senate until disposed of, except when it becomes necessary to sidetrack it temporarily to make way for conference reports on appropriation bills.

When the trade commission bill has been passed, the Clayton antitrust bill, the railroad securities measure, and the rivers and harbors appropriation bill will be taken up in the order named for uninterrupted consideration.

Goes Into Effect Tomorrow.

The new program will be put into effect Friday, with daily sessions from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m. To avoid parliamentary difficulties in the way of the legislative schedule, the senate will recess each day until the next instead of adjourning.

Senator Lewis of Illinois, having been persuaded to abandon his intention of resigning as "whip," was directed to keep a quorum in the chamber at all times. Much of the delay in consideration of the trade commission and rivers and harbors bills recently has been due to scant attendance and demands from the opposition for roll calls.

U. S. LOSES PATIENCE AND MAY INTERVENE

Haitian and Dominican Revolt Causes Great Concern in the United States

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Pleased by European powers the United States government has about lost patience with the various elements in the republic of Haiti and Santo Domingo, and will demand a restoration of peace on threat of armed intervention.

Secretary Bryan will confer tomorrow with Secretary Daniels about a possible movement of marines into Haiti. Already large detachments of marines have been given Captain Russell of the battleship South Carolina, now at Cape Haitien, but final decision as to whether force is to be used by the American government has been deferred.

Reports from Cape Haitien of further fighting with added danger to foreigners were regarded tonight as forecasting prompt action by the marines now being concentrated at Guantanamo.

Refusal to Hand Warning. Not only have the military forces of Haiti refused to heed the warnings of the American government, but fighting must cease and property be protected, but dispatches reported the

What the Press Agents Say

"A MILLION BID"

"A Million Bid" will be shown at the Empress today. The story:

Mrs. Belgradin, finding herself "up against it" financially, resolved to sell her daughter to the man who would pay the most for her. Marsha had the cash to pay for her, and Marsha must have her. The millionaire and his wife set out in the bridegroom's special yacht to spend their honeymoon. In a blinding fog the yacht collided with another vessel and went down. Mrs. Belgradin went down with the yacht, all the others being rescued. Marsha was rescued, but the terrible experience he passed through left him a mental wreck. Even of he had heard of which was a fact that Agnes, the daughter of the millionaire, had married Dr. Brent, the first place, he would not have understood it.

Some five or six years after the marriage of Agnes to the doctor, her husband was called on to diagnose Marsha's case. The patient was taken to the doctor's home, where he saw and talked with Agnes, but without realizing that she was the beautiful girl he had once bought with his million dollars. But while Marsha was wholly ignorant of Agnes' identity, she was sure about him, and her distress can be better imagined than described. It was decided by the doctors that an operation was necessary. If Marsha was to be restored to sanity. But in the event of the success of the operation, what a plight Agnes would find herself in! Fortunately for all concerned, the operation resulted in the millionaire's death—and the long-drawn-out tragedy reached its close.

OPEN HOUSE

"The Power of Silence," a two-act drama, will be shown today.

Thomas Lowry, a wealthy ranch owner, makes his will in favor of his adopted daughter, Jane. "The Silent One," a sheep herder of powerful personality, loves Jane and Lowry approves of the match. Robert Sinclair, a nephew of the old man, comes from the east and falls in love with the girl. "The Silent One" looks on without words. The easterner, with his polished manners, fascinates the girl and he tells her of the wonders of his country. "The Silent One" suddenly and Sinclair tries to steal the girl, but is caught in the act by "The Silent One," who tells her that if she really loves the man to go, but he also advises Sinclair that if he has ever come to the girl, he had better take his own life. Jane goes east with the city man and in a few years her money is squandered, she is reduced to poverty and dies broken-hearted. Sinclair, having dissipated all of the girl's fortune, returns west to sell the sheep. "The Silent One" traps him and by force of will power leads him to his cave in the cliffs. A desperate struggle takes place and the two men pitch over the cliff to death below.

SECOND FLOOD HITS NEW MEXICO TOWN

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 22.—For the second time this summer, the Hillsboro district of Sierra county, New Mexico, has been devastated by floods.

In June a cloudburst sent a flood down the Pecos creek, which swept away half the town of Hillsboro, the county seat, and caused one death.

Continued heavy rains of four days past have sent the Pecos creek out of banks, washing away the crops of more than 100 small farms and wrecking the extensive farms of the Hope-well cattle ranch.

A messenger who came out of the flooded district on horseback today places the damage at over $200,000.

The village of Cuchillo has been entirely washed away.

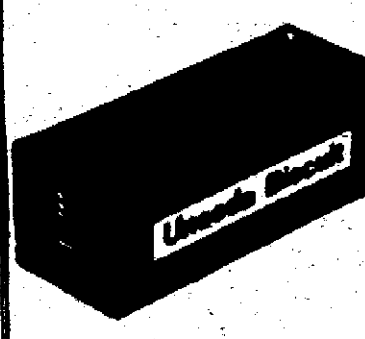

The Gila and Mimbres rivers are out of banks and heavy damage is reported along both streams.

No. 1 of the Courts

A motion by City Attorney J. L. Bennett at the close of the testimony for the plaintiff in the case of Alpha I. Edwards vs. the City of Colorado Springs in the district court yesterday, Judge John E. Lewis instructed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant, was denied just before the adjournment of court for the day. Bennett will begin the introduction of evidence for the city this morning.

Trial of the case was begun Tuesday morning. Mrs. Edwards is suing for $2,500 for alleged damages to her property at 1427 Grant avenue, and goods by flood waters during the storm which occurred the night of Sunday, August 10, 1913. She charges that the damages from the flood waters resulted through negligence of the city in constructing conduits and ditch boxes and in constructing its entire system of drainage in that part of the city.

Bennett, in supporting his motion, argued that negligence by the city had not been shown.

Deputy Sheriff John East and Humane Officer W. S. Reynolds were called to Little Butte yesterday by residents in that section to look after an insane Mexican. When the officers reached there, however, they found that the Mexican had gone some miles beyond the El Paso county line, into Pueblo county. He was there taken in charge by officers from Pueblo.

Police Magistrate Manning yesterday fined H. H. Fawcett and Carl Black-Hashes $10 and costs for violating the automobile light ordinance, and Dora Hasha $10 and costs for violating the dog ordinance. The fines were suspended.

In the county court yesterday, May W. Morris was granted a divorce from Floyd D. Morris on grounds of cruelty.

THIRD COUSINS ARE GIVEN MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license for third cousins—Samuel D. Chestnut and Ona Lee Chestnut, both of Fort Worth, Tex.—was secured yesterday from the office of County Clerk E. C. Shelden, and the couple were married at 6:30 o'clock at the La Court lodging house by Justice O. R. Dunnigan. The couple are the first in many months to secure a marriage license at the local office who have been related.

Two other licenses were issued at Shelden's office yesterday. The couples were: Fred E. Dukeman, 27, and Bessie Hopkins, 23, both of Pueblo; and Harry Leonard of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Ellen Warder Thoron of Colorado Springs.

Prince William of Hohenzollern to Wed Bavarian Princess

MUNICH, Bavaria, July 22.—The betrothal of Prince William of Hohenzollern, father-in-law of former King Manuel of Portugal, to a daughter of the King of Bavaria is understood to be imminent. The prince arrived at Leutstern, near Munich, today on a visit to the Bavarian royal family, and it is believed the official announcement of the engagement will soon be made.

Prince William, who is 30 years old, is a widower, his first wife having died in 1908.

The prince's future bride is said to be Princess Adelunde, King Ludwig's oldest daughter, who was born October 17, 1876.

95 IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 22.—The thermometer here registered 95 degrees shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon, the highest for July, but there were no deaths reported.

EASES TORMENT OF ASTHMA AND HAY FEVER

For the discomfort and misery of asthma and hay fever use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It puts a healing, soothing coating over the swollen, tickling membranes, and loosens the thick and choking sensation. Helps you to breathe easily and naturally. Mrs. Agatha Longacker, Fond du Lac, Wis., says: "My left lung was greatly affected by a severe cold, and one-half bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar cured me." Refuse any substitute offered. IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOYHER

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH WID- LAYS AND ABU-BAJEN IRRITATING ACIDS

Kidney and Bladder weakness is a result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about six ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer, is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for whatever, and causes no bad effects whatever.

You will have a pleasant, refreshing little water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

IN STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do Tells How She Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Miss BERTHA A. PELLOQUIN, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia and Exhaustion,' and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—Miss LAVISA MYERS, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, headache, backache, dragging-down sensations, fainting, spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Living Gems at Paris Ball

Society Leaders Dressed to Represent Precious Stones. Costumes Were Triumphs of Color Set With Jewels of Breath Taking Values. In a Salon-Like the Blue Grotto of Capri.

From the London Telegraph.

PARIS—In spite of dismal skies, of cabinet crises and Bourse depression, never has the Paris season been more brilliant than this year. The jewel ball given by the Prince Jacques de Broglie and the princess, the daughter of the third Prince de Wagram, and Baroness Berthe de Rothschild, marked its apogee.

The costume ball is in favor this year. Recently we had a charming evocation of early second empire days in the crinoline ball given by the Duchess de Gramont. Born a Ruspoli in her magnificent mansion in the Rue Chateaufort, when, for a night, were resurrected from their ancient graves in the depths of old "armoiries" the figures of the Tuilleries. But the jewel ball's splendor did not hold the memories of old happy, far-off things. The robes were the "last cry" from the latest and most fashionable couturier, and the whole scene was a triumph for Twentieth century taste.

Each Guest a Living Jewel. It might so easily have been otherwise. Just think of the opportunities of a jewel ball; a ball where each guest must represent a jewel, could have given for a gleaming display of opulence a display of riches. In each dress was an artistic triumph, a subtle graduated scheme of iridescent color.

The hostess had designed a charming setting for her living jewels. One of the great reception rooms had been arranged as to represent the famous blue grotto of Capri, which still remains one of the loveliest of the world. Nothing could have suited that that the shimmering blue light, a light that never was on sea or land, or even in any grotto elsewhere—at once to chasten and throw into gentle relief diamond and sapphire, ruby, turquoise and emerald.

nier, an exquisite dance, which was warmly applauded.

Like a Great Treasure Chest.

The entrance of the diamonds, the first of the jeweled coronets, had been heralded by a dance of the little girls training at the opera for the corps de ballet. When the different groups of jewels had passed to the floor, the Blue Grotto they scattered to the ballroom, where the scene was perhaps even more dazzling. The sapphire coats of the cavaliers threw into brilliant relief the rubies, diamonds and sapphires of their jeweled partners. It was as if some great treasure chest, had been shattered, and all the wealth of Ormus and of India poured out. The floor was a jeweled mosaic in motion.

The evening ended with a cotillon led by the mistress of the house and Mr. de Broglie. There was one especially charming figure in which Princess Jacques de Broglie found herself beneath a canopy of wicker.

It is said that at this ball, which will be the talk of seven short-remembered Paris for many a season to come, not a crown was worn that will not appear at least 10,000 francs in its fair wearer's coming bill. As for the jewels, they must have represented a sum breath-taking in pounds sterling and in francs incalculable.

WILL HELP THE TOOTHLESS

From the London Times.

Edwin Tate has made to St. Bartholomew's Hospital a gift of £5,000, the income of which is to be employed to assist necessitous persons to obtain artificial teeth.

The origin of Mr. Tate's donation illustrates signally the need which the gift will help to supply. In a recent number of the Times, there appeared the report of an inquest on an old man who lacked teeth, and in an endeavor to eat rapidly was choked to death. This report was read by Mr. Tate, who subsequently consulted the staff of the dental staff of St. Bartholomew's hospital. The £5,000 gift was the result.

Under the terms of the fund necessitous persons may be assisted to the extent of one-half of the estimated cost of the teeth. Nothing will be paid until the dental surgeons recommending the case has certified that the teeth supplied are satisfactory. Poor people sometimes buy cheap sets of false teeth which are so imperfectly fixed that they are useless. At present many poor persons refrain from having bad teeth extracted because they are afraid to pay for them. This is particularly the case with young women. The new fund will meet this difficulty, and will at the same time reduce the amount of general disease which springs directly from septic conditions of the mouth and teeth.

RESULTS TELL

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results in Colorado Springs

Results tell the tale.

All doubts removed.

The testimony of a Colorado Springs citizen.

Can be easily investigated.

What better proof can be had?

Mrs. C. W. Brewer, 316 S. Institute St., Colorado Springs, Colo., says:

"Many years ago while we were living in Missouri, we first used Doan's Kidney Pills. The one who used them was in a bad way with kidney complaint. Doctors' treatments had not seemed to make any improvement, but as soon as Doan's Kidney Pills were used there was a change for the better. They brought splendid results and were so successful I willingly recommend them. Doan's Kidney Pills can be procured at the D. N. Butcher Drug Co."

A LASTING CURE.

On October 22, 1913, Mrs. Brewer said:

"The statement I made about Doan's Kidney Pills over four years ago holds good. I and another of my family who used them have been cured of kidney complaint. I willingly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."
